Customer Reviews

This book is awesome, and so kid-friendly! The thing I like best is that it just uses stuff from around the house. What kid doesn't have access to lit candles, razor blades, and empty gas cans? Of, and of course, boric acid! And the experiments are simple but educational. I mean, it doesn't get any easier than "How to Burn Steel" and "Make a Razor Blade Climb." Illustrated in full technicolor black and white, it's STEM for the retro crowd.
